The Wooing of Calvin Parks

By LAURA E. RICHARDS

Author of "Captain January," "Geoffrey Strong,"
"Mrs. Tree's Will," etc., etc.

In this story, the creator of "Geoffrey Strong" and "Mrs. Tree" reverts to one of the happiest of her many phases of activity, and portrays with delightful reality the queer, quaint, odd, and lovable characters of her own "Down East" neighborhood. With loving touch and without the suspicion of exaggeration or unkindly caricature, she acquaints us with the homely virtues, droll conceits, and pithy saws of the fast vanishing New England types. It is a book with a laugh on every page, a surprise in every chapter, and not a tear from beginning to end.

Russia's Message

By WILLIAM ENGLISH WALLING

MR. WALLING presents the main facts of the greatest world-drama since the Revolution in France. No other non-Russian is better equipped to handle this great subject. The book is a complete and illuminating study of a nation which will set a new political and social example that will profoundly influence the whole world. 46 photographs and a map. Net, $3.00.

Care of Automobiles

By BURT J. PARIS

An absolutely non-technical hand-book which tells everything worth knowing on the subject—especially how to reduce repair bills. $1.00.

READY SHORTLY

The BISHOP'S EMERALDS

By

HOUGHTON TOWNLEY

HERE'S a book that stands head and shoulders above anything we have read in years. The plot centers around a clever thief,—a sort of gentleman burglar,—who plots to steal the Bishop's emeralds (valued at $100,000). By a chain of coincidences the thief is already married to the Bishop's wife.

With a plot that is absolutely original and a literary polish that is superb, Mr. Townley writes a story that can't help being one of the most important books of this or any other year.

Will Greife's illustrations are admirable.

BOOKS FOR SUMMER READING

NEVER before have we had such an attractive list of books especially suitable for Summer Reading. For the sportsman, Charles G. D. Roberts' new volume, THE HOUSE IN THE WATER, A Book of Wild Life, and Richard D Ware's IN THE WOODS AND ON THE SHORE; for the lover of romance, Theodore Roberts' CAPTAIN LOVE; for the reader of the problem novel, Robert Lee Durham's THE CALL OF THE SOUTH, one of the most widely read and most discussed books of the day (three large editions have already been exhausted). In ANNE OF GREEN GABLES we believe that we have discovered another "Rebecca"; and PEGGY AT SPINSTER FARM will furnish both entertainment and enlightenment to thousands of weary city dwellers as well as their more fortunate country cousin.

Page's
List

THE HOUSE IN THE WATER

A Book of Wild Life

By CHARLES G. D. ROBERTS.

Author of "The Kindred of the Wild," "Red Fox," etc. Illustrated by Charles Livingston Bull and Frank Vining Smith. Cloth, $1.50.

Even President Roosevelt concedes that "Prof. Roberts is a charming writer and loves the wilderness."

"As a writer about animals, Mr. Roberts occupies an enviable place. He is the most literary, as well as the most imaginative and vivid of all the nature writers."

—Brooklyn Eagle.

"Poet Laureate of the Animal World. Professor Roberts displays the keenest powers of observation closely interwoven with a fine imaginative discretion."

—Boston Transcript.

IN THE WOODS AND ON THE SHORE

A Book for Sportsmen

By RICHARD D WARE. Illustrated with full-page drawings by Charles Livingston Bull and reproductions of photographs taken by the author. 8vo, cloth, $2.00.

A record of several seasons of hunting and fishing, in Newfoundland and New Brunswick, after trout, caribou, moose and bear, and along the shores of the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the eastern coast of Massachusetts for shore birds and wild fowl.

It is the good fortune of but few sportsmen to have the power of observation combined with the descriptive gift, which makes the author's recital of his experiences a fascinating nature book for the stay-at-home as well as a vaude mecum for other sportsmen.

THE CALL OF THE SOUTH

By ROBERT LEE DURHAM.

Illustrated. $1.50.

"Surpasses anything yet written on the race question. Unlike Tom Dixon's melodramas, it is a permanently convincing artistic sensation." —Savannah News

"The force of the book is tremendous. In dramatic power it equals Tolstoi's 'Resurrection'." —Rev. MARTIN D. HARDIN, Pastor Third Presbyterian Church, Chicago.

"The story is intense. Some parts rise to great heights. The speech of Senator Rutledge before the Senate is splendid. By itself it is one of the best arguments against social equality that has ever been printed. If not already done it should be published in a pamphlet by itself and given world-wide distribution." —The Louisville Courier-Journal.

Illustrated. $1.50

PEGGY AT SPINSTER FARM

By HELEN M. WINSLOW, author of "Literary Boston," etc. Illustrated with many original photographs. $1.50.

Whatever Miss Winslow writes is good, for she is in accord with the life worth living. The Spinster, her niece "Peggy," the Professor, and young Robert Graves,—not forgetting Hiram, the hired man,—are the characters to whom we are introduced on "Spinster Farm." Light hearted character sketches and equally refreshing and unexpected happenings are woven together with a thread of happy romance of which Peggy, of course, is the vivacious heroine. Alluring descriptions of nature and country life are also given.

ANNE OF GREEN GABLES

By L. M. MONTGOMERY.

Illustrated. $1.50

Mr. TEMPLE SCOTT, who read advance proofs, says of this book: "ANNE OF GREEN GABLES" is one of the most delightful books we have read since many a day. As for Anne herself, she is a gem, even with her red hair and freckles. We should dearly have enjoyed Anne Shirley in the flesh."

A short time since the question on every tongue was "How Old is Anne?" In a few weeks it will be "Have you read Anne—Anne of Green Gables?"

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE HENRY ALTEMUS COMPANY will publish shortly a book by ex-President Cleveland, entitled "Good Citizenship."

W. J. WATT & Co. will publish at once a story entitled "The Bishop's Emeralds," by Houghton Townley, with illustrations by Will Grefe. The plot of the story centers around a clever thief—a sort of gentleman burglar—who plots to steal the Bishop's emeralds, worth $100,000.

GEORGE W. JACOBS & Co. will shortly publish in this country two books by T. H. S. Escott, whose "Society in the Country House" was issued by the same firm last season. These are "King Edward VII. and His Court" and "The Story of British Diplomacy." Both are written in the gossipy and entertaining style of Mr. Escott's other works. Mr. Escott has long been the leading editorial writer for the London Standard, and has recently succeeded John Morley as editor of the Fortnightly Review. They have in preparation a novel by Edward Childs Carpenter, author of "Captain Courtesy," etc., entitled "The Gateway of Dreams;" also, "The One—and I," by Elizabeth Freemantle, a story of the Canadian Northwest, written in a sprightly diary style, with a vein of quiet humor running throughout.

D. APPLETON & Co. have just brought out a story of the woods on the Canadian border, entitled "Gleam o' Dawn," by Arthur Goodrich, author of "The Balance of Power," etc., which, it is said, might be called an American sequel to "Madame Butterfly"—the living child returning after thirty years to judge the father. They have also just ready "The Last Duchess of Belgrade," by Molly Elliot Seawell, which tells the story of a shy little lady, married by her guardian to a duke of the court of Louis XVI., who is a great rake, in spite of his attractions. The duke makes his little wife very unhappy by neglecting her for more showy women, but when the Revolution comes and he is cast into prison she becomes his only friend. Her love and devotion stir his better nature and her true honeymoon—the happiest days of her life—is spent within the prison walls before the day when the lovers go together to their death.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just ready Richard Harding Davis's new novel, "Vera, the Medium," the thrilling story of the climax in the career of a young and beautiful girl who is a highly successful medium. The story is illustrated by Frederic Dorr Steele. They have also just ready Louis Rhead's "The Book of Fish and Fishing," fully described in our issue for May 23. They will bring out on the 20th inst. Maurice Hewlett's new story, "The Halfway House," a novel of modern life of to-day in England. Later in the month will be issued the first volume of a work by Charles Foster Kent, entitled The Historical Bible. This book, to be completed in six volumes, is in the nature of a popular commentary whose purpose it is to "put in the hands of students the really vital parts of the Bible, arranged in chronological order, and to interpret its essential teachings into the thought and language of to-day." The forthcoming volume has for its subject "The Heroes and Crises of Early Hebrew History."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

 The prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Describes the unsuccessful attempt of the Scioto Associates to establish a French colony on the banks of the Ohio in 1790. The complete failure of the speculation both as a colonizing and financial scheme is traced to the conditions that caused it. In dealing with the French emigrants the writer has avoided the picturesque elements of their story, already so thoroughly exploited.

The work is practically entirely new, every article having been re-written and reset from cover to cover. Gives a wide range and wealth of information on all live topics of social and economic interest. A work of labor-saving value to all persons who wish to keep abreast of the best thoughts of reform leaders. The articles are by specialists on all sides of the questions involved; its statistics are vouched for by experts. The facts are presented briefly, untrammelled by bias. The conditions prevailing among the masses are set forth with a view to enlighten and inspire reform.

Author is professor of Egyptology and Oriental history in the University of Chicago. While this volume is largely a condensation and abridgment of the author's "History of Egypt," he has endeavored to conform it to the design of this historical series and to make it as far as possible a history of the Egyptian people. At the same time the remarkable recent discoveries and the progress of research made since the appearance of his larger history have been fully incorporated.
- Bridgman, Lewis Jesse. My high school days; with illustrations. Bost., H. M. Caldwell Co., [1908.] c. no paging, O. cl., $1.50; hf. mor., $3; limp mor., $5, boxed.
The book has spaces for autographs and photographs; a sketch of the school and a list of the teachers with comments; accounts of sports and societies, and an elaborate account of graduation day. Printed in two colors on highly finished paper and bound in various styles.

The author of "The indwelling Christ" studies the great converted Jewish Rabbi first as poet and mystic, afterwards as the logician. He claims St. Paul writes with the exuberant imagination of a true Oriental, often sublimely indifferent to logical sequence and displays a subtlety of thought incomprehensible to the mere scholar and critic. Now that there is a revival of interest in mysticism, the mystical and vital movement of St. Paul's mind and his all inspiring spiritual aim deserve careful study.

Dr. Carter pleads for a careful revision of the old creeds taught by the churches which made God a being of terror and preached eternal torture to all who did not bow to scholastic interpretation of God the Father and God the Son. The new theology is to be love and good works, a happy nature cultivated by a right spirit within and a devotion to one's brother man. Incidentally the book describes the play of "Everyman" and its hopelessness.

The chief scene is the same as in "Captain Desmond, V. C."—the frontier of India in the early eighties—but five years earlier than in that story. While the Desmonds appear in all the leading episodes of the narrative, the real hero is Captain Lenox, a brother officer of Desmond's, who separates from his wife—an English artist—on their wedding day. They never meet again until five years have passed, and then by chance in India they are brought together and discover they still love each other. Many dramatic happenings keep them apart for a long time. There are skirmishes in which Lenox is wounded, a cholera scare, reckless flirtations, etc. Anglo-Indian life, with its hardships and pleasure, is as vividly described as in "Captain Desmond, V. C."

The author, of "The power of silence," "Living by the Spirit," and other volumes of essays on the inner life, has undertaken a systematic study of the higher nature of man in relation to the divine presence. This volume contains, also, a supplementary essay on Hegel's "Logic," in which Dr. Dresser makes good the practical part of his argument by reference to Hegel's fundamental analysis of immediacy. As a whole, the book is a direct appeal to immediate verifiable experience, in contrast with all speculative systems. It is constructive throughout and will greatly aid those who are in search of a positive, rational faith.

Professor Duncan is the literary executor and was the life-long friend of Herbert Spencer. The book conflicts in no way with the "Autobiography" of the sympathetic philosopher, as extracts from letters given in that work are not repeated in this. The "Autobiography" carried the life only to 1882. It was during the twenty-one remaining years of his life that Spencer made his most vehement protests against socialism. The appendix gives the article on "The filiation of ideas," written in 1898-'99 and left by Spencer for publication in this volume. Among the illustrations are several portraits not hitherto published of Spencer; also portraits of Charles Darwin, Edward L. Youmans, Huxley, Sir Charles Lyell, John Tyndall.

The story has for a background the woods on the Canadian border. The hero is the son of a white man and an Indian woman, who has dedicated his life to revenging his mother's wrongs. His father deserted his mother when he was a baby, leaving her to die of a broken heart. It is her name that gives title to the story. The father had settled enough money on the boy to give him a European education and develop his artistic talents. When the reader meets him as Dan Smith he is under the lure of the woods, seeking inspiration for new pictures. He finds a girl to love here and meets his father, the end being tragedy.

Many years ago the medical profession had pronounced the author the victim of incurable disease. He then made a study of "new thought" literature, but found all its expounders disagreed. He abandoned all reading and in silence thought himself unto a "way" which enabled him to control all his physical and mental powers and made him a whole man. A Bible and a dictionary were his only works of reference. The human consciousness is made one with the Christ consciousness and one with law and order.

Mott, Hopper Striker. The New York of yesterday: a descriptive narrative of old Bloomingdale; its topographical features, its early families and their genealogies, its old homesteads and country-seats, its French invasion, and its war experiences considered in their relation to its first religious society, the Bloomingdale Reformed Church, organized 1805; incorporated 1806 as the church at Harsenville; with 78 il., diagrams and map. N. Y., Putnam, 1908. c. 26+597 p. O. cl., $10 net, boxed.

The broadest kind of a historical and genealogical background has been taken and the annals are given of the entire region of the Bloomingdale of old New York City, extending from 23d St. to 125th St. on the West side of Manhattan Island. Original abstracts, wills and mss. have been studied to supply material not heretofore published. The illustrations give views of local mansions, institutions and portraits of old residents and maps of different hamlets which were comprised in Bloomingdale. Marriages and baptisms in the Harsenville church from 1806 to a recent date are appended. Compiler is member of the N. Y. Historical Society, trustee of the N. Y. Genealogical and Biographical Society, and member of the Holland Society. Authorities cited (3 p.). Exhaustive index.

The hero, Donovan O'Hara, is handicapped through the circumstances of his birth and dual inheritance. His father, a handsome horse jockey, eloped with his mother, a beautiful refined woman, who died heartbroken when Donovan was seven years old. The boy had grown up with little education or polish but with his mother's beauty, and with no knowledge of gaining a living except with horses. He is a strange mixture of his mother's refinement and his father's brutal nature. The turning point in his life is when he meets and loves a refined girl. Vivid description of New York Horse Show.

Spalding, Rev. H. Stanislaus. The marks of the bear claws; with frontispiece. N. Y., Benziger Bros., 1908. c. 3-229+12 p. D. cl., 85 c.

An instructive story for young people based upon the western explorations which led to the discovery of the Mississippi. Father Marquette, a Jesuit missionary who accompanied Joliet, the French explorer, figures largely in the narrative. The conversion to Christianity of "Red Bear," an Indian boy, is part of the story.

Stacpole, H. De Vere. The blue lagoon: a romance. Phil., Lippincott, 1908. 7+326 p. D. cl., *$1.50.

A man, far-gone in consumption, his son and niece, children of eleven and thirteen years, set sail in a Boston merchant vessel in search of health. They are wrecked in the Southern Seas among coral islands. The children and one old sailor reach a desert island. In time the old sailor dies. The children grow, live natural lives, study the animal and vegetable life about them. In time their own natures unfold and there is a poetic study of their developing into lovers and parents. All the living things of the Southern hemisphere are studied, from corals to suffering human beings.

Book is written to controvert the very general belief that the Popes have been opposed to scientific progress. Author shows that this supposed opposition is practically all founded on the Galileo incident, and that in reality, science, quite as much as art, has been patronized by the Vatican in all ages.
- Walton, G.: Lincoln, M.D. Why worry? Phil., Lippincott, 1908. c. '07, '08. 11-275 p. D. cl., $1 net.
The author teaches that work may be done more effectively by eliminating undue solicitude. His aim is the gradual establishment of a frame of mind. He has no sympathy with faith cures. By effort of individual will control of the mind must be obtained. The nucleus of the book was given in an address delivered before the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JUNE 6, 1908.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers and librarians depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalog," and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE NEW VOLUMES OF THE "AMERICAN CATALOG."

It had been purposed, as previously announced, to continue the twentieth century series of the "American Catalog" by the publication of main and supplementary volumes for the five years ending with January 1, 1910, or for the six years completing the record to the end of the calendar year 1910, and so providing for regular quinquennial periods corresponding with the natural decades 1911-1920, 1921-1930, and so on. It was proposed to make an intermediate publication covering three years, which volume or volumes would be superseded at the end of the quinquennial period. As this three-year list approached completion it was found that its bulk would be practically the same as that for the preceding five years, and it has, therefore, been determined to make the permanent volumes triennial instead of quinquennial. This plan will provide volumes of less bulk and more handy size, and will have other advantages.

The main volume for this second period is now in the binder's hands and will be issued next month, comprising the short title record by author, title, subject and series of books recorded in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY during the three calendar years 1905, 1906, 1907, with such added titles as from oversight or lack of bibliographical information were not recorded within the year of publication. This main volume will be, as heretofore, in one alphabet and will furnish to the booktrade and to libraries the most ready and convenient method of tracing books up to the beginning of the present year, since which date the quarterly cumulation of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY and its monthly reference list bring bibliographical information up to date.

For the second period, as well as for the first, there will be furnished a supplementary volume, comprising the full titles and descriptive notes of books recorded in the "Weekly Record" of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY in a separate alphabet for each of the years 1905, 1906, 1907, bound together into one volume, uniform with the main volume. This supplementary volume is a treasure house of more complete information, to which the first ready-reference list is key, but each volume is complete independent of the other.

It is pointed out in the preface to this volume, as it was suggested in the first volume of the series, that the product of the American press is increasing to an extent almost beyond the commercial possibilities of private bibliographical enterprises, and it is not improbable that ultimately an official record of American book production will be undertaken by the Library of Congress, through the Copyright Office—especially as the new copyright bill, if and when it shall become a law, provides for the Copyright Office the facilities outlined in the drafts of that measure. Meantime, however, the field must be covered by a private enterprise, as now, and these enterprises cannot exist without the hearty and united support of the booktrade and of libraries. There is, in fact, so little commercial margin for profit in trade bibliography that the motive of publication is professional rather than commercial. In a period of depression, like the present season, booksellers in particular are disposed to economize by cutting off such tools as bibliographical volumes, like those in question, on the theory that they can answer their customers' queries for the most part from the files of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY or from their own knowledge. But this is doubly and trebly a mistake, for the reasons that it wastes the time of a bookseller not to have the best tools at hand, puts him in a less favorable position with his customer, and finally tends to make impossible the supply of bibliographies which he needs as tools of trade and which in better seasons he is quite ready to buy. For these reasons the special support of the trade is asked in behalf of the "American Catalog."

It has been doubtful from the start, as we have previously indicated, whether the relation of prices can be based upon the copyright law. The pith of the decisions in the U. S. Supreme Court in the Macy cases is that they cannot. The copyright law in a specific statute is limited in effect to its specific provisions. In one of the cases, the Bobbs-Merrill Co., it will be recalled, inserted a restriction of price in each copy of a book as a sequence to the copyright notice. In the Scribner cases notice was given on billheads and otherwise to the same effect as regards copyrighted books. The text of the decisions is not before us at this writing and therefore the exact bearings of them cannot be fully stated. But it should be noted that the decisions have to do only with copyright as a basis of price control and do not deal with the other questions involved in the methods of the American Publishers' Association. The general methods of the Association have largely justified themselves already throughout the trade and in relation with book buyers, and it will be a mistake to suppose that these decisions as to copyright are more comprehensive than is really the fact. In the Walker Map case it is not clear, until the full text of the decision is published, whether the decision is based on the fact that the map was printed in an official report of the State of Massachusetts or on the fact that specific damages had already been obtained and that the current suit was for further damages.

At the close of the congressional session, the copyright situation is by no means cleared. Chairman Currier has introduced into the House a bill replacing his former draft, and presumably representing the views of the majority of the Patents Committee; Mr. Sulzer's bill represents, it is supposed, the views of the minority; Mr. Washburn's bill takes a middle course, while there is also on the docket the amendment to the manufacturing clause presented by the American [Authors] Copyright League through Mr. McCall. The three bills differ chiefly in their treatment of musical compositions, Mr. Currier's requiring musical authors to permit mechanical reproductions of their works at two cents a roll, or one cent for little ones, Mr. Sulzer's providing for a stamp royalty scheme, and Mr. Washburn's, already printed in our columns, retaining rights of mechanical reproduction in the composer's control, but providing that if he permits such reproduction there should be a general license at a stated percentage on price.

The other important and novel feature of Mr. Currier's bill is a term of twenty-eight years with twenty-eight years' renewal; while Mr. Sulzer's bill, like Mr. Washburn's, provides for life and forty-two years. Mr. Currier's bill also makes a considerable change in the importation clause which permits non-piractical copies, except in the case of foreign reprints of an American book, to be imported for use and not for sale without the permission of the copyright proprietor. This might have the boomerang effect of largely nullifying the manufacturing clause, because it would make it difficult for an American publisher to make an American edition of a might be largely covered by foreign book-might be largely covered by foreign book brokers offering single copies by mail to American purchasers. All the bills in question were introduced at the close of the session for the sole purpose of having them in concrete shape for the opening of the next session. There will be plenty of time, therefore, for the discussion of the details, and it is evident that there will be a renewal next December of the hot fighting of the past few years.

THE NEW COPYRIGHT DRAFTS.

CHAIRMAN CURRIER presented in the House "May 12 (calendar day May 26)" a copyright bill, H. R. 22183, a bill replacing his previous draft. Of this the important feature is the following:

SEC. I. (d) To perform or represent the copyrighted work publicly if it be a drama, or if it be a dramatic work and not reproduced in copies for sale, to vend any manuscript or any record whatsoever thereof; to make or to procure the making of any transcription or record thereof by or from which, in whole or in part, it or any performance thereof may in any manner be performed, presented, produced, or reproduced, and to exhibit it or any performance or any representation or reproduction of it or any performance thereof whatsoever.

(e) To perform the copyrighted work publicly for profit if it be a musical composition on which such right of public performance for profit has been reserved, as provided in section twenty-one of this Act, or to make any arrangement or setting of it or of the melody of it in any system of notation or any form of record in which the thought of an author may be recorded and from which it may be read or reproduced to the ear. Provided, That the provisions of this Act, so far as they relate to instruments or machines or parts of instruments or machines which reproduce or serve to reproduce to the ear the musical work, shall include only compositions published and copyrighted after this Act takes effect, and shall not include the works of a foreign author or composer unless the foreign state or nation of which such author or composer is a citizen or subject grants, either by treaty, convention, agreement, or law, to citizens of the United States similar rights; Provided further, That any person may make use of the copyrighted work in the manufacture of records or controllers for mechanical musical-producing machines, however operated, and may sell or use such records for profit upon payment of a royalty to the copyrighted proprietor by the manufacturer of such record or controller, as herein-after provided: And provided further, That in no event shall the payment of more than one royalty be required on any such record or controller.

In case of the use of such copyrighted composition on such interchangeable records or controllers of such mechanical music-producing instruments no criminal action shall be brought, and in a civil action no injunction shall be granted, but the plaintiff shall be entitled to recover in lieu of profits and damages a royalty of two cents on each such record or controller, except in the case of disks for talking machines not exceeding eight inches in diameter or cylinders not exceeding four inches in length, in which case the royalty shall be one cent; but in the case of the refusal of such manufacturer to pay to the copyright proprietor within thirty days after demand in writing the full sum of royalties due at the said rate at the date of such demand the court may award taxable costs to the plaintiff and a reasonable counsel fee, and the court may enter judgment therein for any sum above the amount found by the verdict as the actual damages, according to the circumstances of the case, not exceeding three times the amount of such verdict.

Mr. Sulzer's bill, introduced "May 12 (calendar day May 21)," as H. R. 22071, gives these provisions as follows:

SEC. 1. (d) To perform or represent the copyrighted work publicly if it be a drama;

(e) To perform the copyrighted work publicly for profit if it be a musical composition on which such right of public performance for profit has been reserved as provided in section twenty-one of this Act; and for the purpose of public performance for profit, or, for the purposes set forth in subsection (a) hereof, to make any arrangement or setting of it or of the melody of it in any system or notation, or to make any form of record thereof in which the thought of an author may be recorded and from which it may be read or reproduced.

In Section 14, the Currier draft provides that in case of non-deposit of copies, the copyright shall be forfeited, the Sulzer draft that there shall be a fine of $100.

In Section 25, the Currier bill provides a double period of 28 and 28 years, as follows:

SEC. 25. That the copyright secured by this Act shall endure for twenty-eight years after the first publication: Provided, That the author, if still living, or the widow, widower, or children, if the author be not living, and if such author, widow, widower, or children be not living, then the author's heirs, or executors, or administrators shall have the same exclusive right continued for the further term of twenty-eight years upon recording the title of the work or description of the article so secured a second time and complying with all other regulations in regard to original copyrights within six months before the expiration of the first term, but if the work be a composite work upon which the copyright was originally secured by the proprietor thereof, then the proprietor of such copyright shall be entitled to the privilege of renewal and extension.

The term shall extend to the end of the calendar year of expiration.

The Sulzer bill, like the Washburn bill, provides a period of life AND forty-two years thereafter.

In Section 27, the Currier bill omits and the Sulzer bill includes the desired clause joining the publisher with the author in the application for renewal of an existing copyright in the case of works sold outright.

In Section 28, the Currier bill and the Sulzer bill both include the $250 minimum for damages, which was omitted from the Washburne bill, not inadvertently, but in line with Mr. Steuart's argument.

In Section 31, the Currier and Sulzer bills both have the following proviso:

Provided, however, That nothing in this Act shall be so construed as to prevent the performance of religious or secular works, such as oratorios, cantatas, masses, or octavo choruses by public schools, church choirs, or vocal societies rented or borrowed from some other public school, school choir, or vocal society, provided the performance is given for charitable or educational purposes, and not for profit.

The Sulzer bill includes an elaborate stamp method for permitting the use of musical compositions by mechanical devices, as follows:

SEC. 31 a. That whenever the proprietor of a copyrighted musical work has used or permitted the use of the same for profit upon any device or contrivance adapted to reproduce mechanically the musical work, any other person may make similar use of the copyrighted work upon payment to the copyright proprietor of the same before vending, selling, or offering any such device or contrivance for sale a sum equal to the one-tenth part of the marked retail price of any such device or contrivance and shall affix to such device or contrivance before vending, selling, or offering it for sale a royalty stamp issued to him by the proprietor of the copyright denoting the payment of said sum.

The proprietor of the copyright shall cause to be prepared, for the payment of the royalty upon such contrivance or device, suitable stamps denoting the royalty thereon, and on which shall be printed the title of the composition which the said device or contrivance is adapted to reproduce, the name of the copyright proprietor of such composition and the retail price of such device or contrivance, and shall keep on hand at all times a sufficient supply of stamps, and shall sell the same to any person desiring to purchase the same, in default of which no action shall be maintained, nor recovery be had for any infringement by any such device or contrivance. Every manufacturer of any such device or contrivance shall securely affix, by pasting on each such device or contrivance manufactured by him before selling, vending, or offering it for sale the aforesaid royalty stamp, in default of which he shall be liable under the provision of this Act as an infringer of the copyright.

The person using or affixing the stamp as herein provided for shall cancel the same by writing thereon the initials of his name and the date on which such stamp is attached or used, so that it may not again be used.

Any person who shall vend, sell, or offer for sale any such contrivance, or device, or appliance without properly affixing thereon and cancelling the stamp denoting the royalty on the same, or affixes a false, fraudulent, or counterfeit stamp, or any dealer who buys, receives, or has in his possession any such device or contrivance on which the royalty has not been paid, or any person who removes or causes to be removed from any such device or contrivance any stamp denoting the royalty on the same, with intent to again use such stamp, or who knowingly uses or permits any other person to use the stamp so removed, or who knowingly receives, buys, sells, or gives away, or has in his possession any stamp so removed, or who makes any other fraudulent use of any such stamp shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than two hundred and fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and imprisoned for not less than three months nor more than one year.

Nothing in this section declared to be illegal by any court of competent jurisdiction shall in any wise affect or impair any other section or subsection or part thereof in this Act contained, but the same shall remain in full force and effect in the same manner and to the same extent as if this section were not embodied in this Act.

In Section 34, the Currier bill permits importation of non-piratical foreign copies.

First. When imported, not more than one copy at one time, for use and not for sale, but such privilege of importation shall not extend to a foreign reprint of a book by any American author copyrighted in the United States.

—which omits the requirement of consent by the copyright proprietor. This is a new feature.

The Sulzer bill reads:

First. When imported, not more than one copy at one time, for use and not for sale, under permission given by the proprietor of the American copyright.

The Currier bill omits, while the Sulzer bill retains, as Section 44, the provision that the copyright is distinct from the property in the material object copyrighted, while both omit the "separate estate" provision.

The above are the distinctive respects in which these latter differ from the bills previously introduced and from each other.

FRENCH AUTHORS WOULD PATENT THEIR WORK.

"PARISIAN literary men," according to the Paris correspondent of the New York Herald, "at present are agitating for the more adequate protection of literary property. One idea which is being much discussed is the creation of a sort of patent office for literary works, where the latter can be registered and will thenceforth be duly protected by law, just as are the products of an inventor's brain.

"Flagiarism would thus be punishable as is a breach of a patent. The idea is that an author should deposit his manuscript at an institute or bureau where the title and a summary of it would be registered, with possibly even a duplicate copy of the entire work."

PENNY POSTAGE TO ENGLAND.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL MEYER announced on June 3 that an agreement had been reached with the British government providing for a letter postage of two cents an ounce between the United States and Great Britain and Ireland, to become operative October 1, 1908. He stated further that the British postmaster-general, Sydney Buxton, had made a like announcement to the House of Commons, expressing his confidence that this reduction would greatly increase the commercial intercourse and the mutual good feeling already existing between the two countries.

The matter of a "penny postage," as it is called in England, has been under consideration for some time, and as far back as July, 1907, President Roosevelt approved Mr. Meyer's course in urging a "restricted union with England."

On October 1, 1907, the universal postal union, which governs the international postal transactions of the various civilized countries, reduced the rate of letter postage from 5 cents a half ounce flat to 5 cents for the first ounce and 3 cents for each additional ounce, which is the present rate between the United States and Great Britain, with which we have direct steamship communication, and is also the rate between the United States and countries with which we do not have direct steamship communication, but on mail to which we have to pay an additional charge to countries through which it passes in transit.

Under the articles of the universal union any two states can form a restricted union. Examples of restricted unions are those now existing which permit a 2-cent-an-ounce letter rate between the United States and Cuba, the United States and Panama, and the United States and Canada.

Postmaster-General Meyer believes that this reduction in the rate of postage to the United Kingdom ultimately will result in an increase in receipts, because it has always been found that a reduction of the letter rate resulted finally in increasing the revenue. He is also of the opinion that a lower postage will lead to freer commercial intercourse. Our manufacturers, he says, are increasing their sales in England, and must rely to a great extent upon the mails for orders and increase of trade.

"Further," he stated, "this will be a great boon to our adopted English-speaking citizens, and their connection here, particularly those of limited means, as it will enable them to keep up correspondence with their relations and friends in the old country at domestic rates."

REPORT ON REMOVING THE TARIFF FROM PULP AND PRINT PAPER.

THE special committee of six members of the House, appointed upon complaint of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, to investigate the wood pulp and print paper situation in relation to the tariff and with regard to an alleged conspiracy in restraint of trade, submitted a majority and a minority report.

The majority report, which is signed by Representatives Mann of Illinois, Miller of Kansas, Stafford of Wisconsin, and Bannon of Ohio, is a preliminary report, and recommends that no legislation affecting wood pulp and print paper be enacted until the committee has further investigated and reported.

The minority report, which is signed by Representatives Sims of Tennessee and Ryan of New York, recommends the passage of the Stevens bill, to place wood pulp and print paper on the free list.

As to the charge of the existence of a combination in restraint of trade, the report says: "The evidence before the committee so far fails to prove any combination of print-paper manufacturers to advance prices, or otherwise in restraint of trade, but considerable evidence was presented which might excite suspicion that such a combination had been made and was in existence." Notwithstanding this report, it is expected that the Department of Justice in the near future will bring suits against the paper trust on the ground that it is operating in restraint of trade. Agents of the department have been at work in New York for some time, and evidence is now said to be in such shape that actions may be commenced.

BOOKBINDERS WANT PROTECTION.

THE INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD OF BOOKBINDERS, whose headquarters are now in New York City, has decided to start an agitation against sending to Europe books to be bound as works of art, by American firms, and re-importing them much enhanced in value without paying duty. The matter will be brought up at the annual convention of the Brotherhood, beginning at Cincinnati on June 8. A statement has been made on behalf of the international officers which says, among other things, that the real reason for sending the work away is that the senders can get it done cheaper. This, it is claimed, is because the price of raw materials and the standard of living are lower in Europe than here. The question of agitating for an amendment to the tariff laws by which an ad valorem duty will be levied on all such articles will be taken up by the union.

PUBLISHER CANNOT CANCEL CONTRACT FOR SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS.

A VERDICT was rendered last week at last court in favor of Attorney B. F. Madore, of Bedford, Pa., against The American Law Book Company, of New York City, the publishers of the "Cyclopedia of Law and Procedure," commonly known as "Cyc," for $286.20 damages for the failure of the Law Book Company to comply with the terms of their contract with Mr. Madore. The contract provided that Mr. Madore was to receive a set of "Cyc" as fast as the same was published, but The American Law Book Company refused to ship any volumes after volume 20 because Mr. Madore had disposed of his books. Mr. Madore retained his contract, and on this began proceedings by foreign attachment to determine whether The American Law Book Company had the right to rescind this contract after partially completing it, there being no provision for a rescission of the contract by either party, and the verdict sustains the contract. Since court a settlement has been made whereby Mr. Madore is to receive the remaining volumes of "Cyc" as far as now published and as fast as it is published hereafter until the completion of the work.

JEWS TO TRANSLATE THE BIBLE.

THE Jewish Publication Society of America, at its twentieth annual meeting, held in Philadelphia, on May 31, made the announcement that arrangements have been made for the translation of the Bible. This is regarded as one of the most important works ever undertaken by the society.

The translation will be made with the cooperation of the Central Conference of Jewish Rabbis, and the book will be adopted as the official version of that body. A Bible fund of $50,000 will be raised for the purpose. Edwin Wolf, of Philadelphia, was chosen president, and Dr. Henry M. Leipziger, of New York City, vice-president of the society.

SCRANTOM, WETMORE & CO.'S FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

SCRANTOM, WETMORE & Co., of Rochester, N. Y., on May 30, celebrated its fortieth anniversary. One feature of the celebration was a banquet given in the Duffy-McInnery dining room, on the evening of May 28, when the one hundred employees of the firm were the guests of their employers. There were addresses by the members of the firm and several invited guests and by the heads of departments. All this week the store has been lavishly decorated, and in honor of the occasion a booklet has been prepared for distribution among the friends and patrons of the house from which we extract the following:

On the 30th day of May, 1868, a new book and stationery store was opened for business at No. 10 State Street, in the Butts Building, in Rochester, N. Y. The proprietors were Elbert Henry Scrantom and Lansing G. Wetmore, two young men employed previously as clerks in the book store of Steele & Avery. Their stock consisted of a modest, well-selected assortment of such goods as were commonly carried in a first-class book store of that period.

One and a half years later they were joined by another young man, Albert C. Walker, and in the year 1878 the firm became Scrantom, Wetmore & Co., Mr. Walker becoming the third partner. The personnel of the firm remained unchanged until April, 1905, when occurred the death of Mr. Scrantom, a severe loss to his co-workers and a sorrow to the community at large, by whom he was universally esteemed. In August of that year, Joshua T. Gorsline, who had been for many years cashier and manager of the office, came into the firm as a third partner, the firm name remaining unchanged.

During these forty years of business life the firm has witnessed a growth of its home city from a population of about 62,000 to a municipality of the first class and a population approximating 200,000. The growth of this book and stationery store has more than kept pace with the progress of its environment. In 1880 it was removed to the larger store, No. 12 State Street. To it was added later a rear "L" and office space and sales rooms on the floor above. In 1885 the Ellwanger & Barry Building was completed, and there, into a much larger and more modern store, the firm was induced to move by the still steadily growing volume of business. It was not long before continued growth, in both the retail and wholesale branches, called for still more space, and in the summer of 1889 the large store in the Powers Building, long occupied by the A. S. Mann dry goods business, and fronting on both State and West Main Streets, was secured and handsomely fitted for the special needs of Scrantom, Wetmore & Co.

There the business has remained, experiencing an uninterrupted growth and necessitating frequent readjustments and improvements. In the fall of 1906, the store adjoining to the west, on the Main Street side, was added. This present season the spacious second floor of the Alling & Cory Building on Exchange Street has been taken for the accommodation of the engraving and die-embossing branch of the business and for wholesale storage, for which space in the Wisner Building had previously been used. A total floor area, approximating 25,000 square feet, is now occupied by the firm for the housing of the various branches of their business. About one hundred employees make up the regular force, and half as many more are added during the holiday season.

In behalf of the trade we add our congratulations to those of the host of friends and patrons in Rochester and elsewhere, whose friendly interest and liberal patronage have made the growth of this business possible, with the hope that honest endeavor along the same lines of progress may continue to maintain and prosper the bookstore of Scantom, Wetmore & Co.

BIG PRICES FOR MRS. EDDY'S WORKS.

At the sale of the library of the late Edward H. Lowe, of London, at Anderson's auction rooms, on May 21, a first edition of Mrs. Eddy's "Science and Health," published in 1875, brought $114. A manuscript poem by Mrs. Eddy on "Woman's Rights" was sold to Sol. Lichtenstein, the bookmaker, for $43. The 1878 edition of "Science and Health," published at Lynn by Dr. A. G. Eddy, containing an introduction and three new chapters, went for $97. A "Historical Sketch of the Church of Christ," by Mrs. Eddy, consisting of two leaves, was sold for $8.75, and the same bidder for $9 obtained another two-leaved production of the Christian Science leader, entitled "Private Directions for Metaphysical Healing," issued to her followers for their instruction in Christian healing.

COMMUNICATIONS.

CHARLES A. BURKHARDT EXTENDS THANKS TO THE BOOKTRADE.

To the Members of the American Booksellers' Association, the Booksellers' League and Members in General.

GENTLEMEN: At the banquet of the American Booksellers' Association, on May 20, when I was presented with such a substantial "token of your esteem" I was so much taken by surprise that words failed me to properly express my thanks and appreciation of the great honor conferred upon me.

No thought of personal gain or advertisement ever prompted me in doing such work as lay in my power for the betterment of our calling, but a desire to pay the debt every man owes to his profession, as exemplified in the quotation from Bacon, heading the editorial page of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, which has been an inspiration to me.

Through this work I have reaped the rich reward of the good will and friendship of very many of you in all parts of the country, and when I say I value this above all the wealth of the Vanderbilts or Astors I mean every word of it, FOR IT IS PRICELESS—something which can not be bought.

There is not wealth enough in this world for which I would exchange your gift; for the rest of my life it will represent your kindly feeling and remind me of the happiest hour in my life.

Gratefully yours,
CHAS. A. BURKHARDT.

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

AN AUTHORS' LEAGUE AMENDMENT.

Mr. McCall, (by request of the American [Authors] Copyright League,) introduced on May 12, (calendar day, May 22,) 1908, in the House of Representatives the following bill (H. R. 22908) which was referred to the Committee on Patents and ordered to be printed:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section three of the Act of March third, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, amending section four hundred and fifty-six of the Revised Statutes of the United States, be amended by inserting after the words, "Provided, That in the case of a book, photograph, chromo, or lithograph," the following words, "except the original text of a book of foreign origin in a language or languages other than English."

Sec. 2. That all laws or parts of laws in conflict with this Act are hereby repealed.

This amendment was formulated by the League in justice to Continental authors, to bring definitely before the Patent Committee the desirability of action which would enable such works to be copyrighted here, pending translation into English.

On the same day Mr. Sulzer introduced as H. R. 22071 a complete bill following the general lines of the pending bills, assuring entire rights to musical composers.

U. S. SUPREME COURT DECISION IN SUITS OF BOBBS-MERRILL CO. AND CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS VS. MACY & CO.

THE Associated Press dispatch states that on June 1 the U. S. Supreme Court made decisions on four important copyright cases, the opinions being handed down by Justice Day. The first decision was in the case of the Bobbs-Merrill Company vs. R. H. Macy & Co. and Isidor and N. Straus, the decision being in favor of Macy & Co. In this case the court dealt with the question whether the sale by a retail dealer of a copyrighted book below the price fixed by the publishers is an infringement of copyright. The Bobbs-Merrill Company in publishing a certain novel stipulated in a printed notice that it should not be sold for less than the stated price per copy. The Macys sold the work for 89 cents, and suit was brought accordingly in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, but the bill was dismissed. A like result followed when the case was appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals, and the Supreme Court decision confirms this view. The suit was based on the theory that the right to dispose of a copyrighted work gives the owner the right to place restrictions on its sale.

In the two cases of Charles Scribner's Sons against the Macy house, the Scribners sought in the first suit to enjoin the defendants from selling their copyrighted books at cut prices and from procuring publications for such purposes from dealers maintaining such prices, on the ground that it is an infringement of copyright. In the second case the allegation was that Macy & Co. had sought to induce other dealers to violate their agreements with the publishers. The Circuit Court of Appeals decided against the publishers in both instances, holding that the sellers had not agreed not to cut prices, and that there was no evidence of an effort to influence others. This decision was confirmed by the Supreme Court.

Owing to the delay in transmission of the text of the decision in these cases we must defer its publication to our next issue.

In the case of George H. Walker, vs. the Globe Newspaper Company, of Boston, another feature of the law was involved. The Globe reprinted a copyrighted map of electric railways in Massachusetts owned by Walker & Co. They were assessed damages fixed upon a basis of each publication. The plaintiffs then brought suit for additional damages, and the Circuit Court of Massachusetts awarded $250. This decision was reversed.

IN MEMORY OF JACOB F. DENGLER.

THE following resolutions were presented and adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Managers of The Booksellers' League:

Resolved, That in the death of Mr. Jacob F. Dengler The Booksellers' League has lost one of its most loyal charter members, a man who by his sterling qualities won the respect and esteem of his associates and every one with whom he had business relations.

Resolved, That The Booksellers' League extend to his family its heartfelt sympathy and condolence in their great loss, which it shares only in a lesser degree.

Resolved, That this resolution be spread in full on the minutes and a copy sent to his family.

OBITUARY.

HOMER MERRIAM.

HOMER MERRIAM, the last of the brothers who were identified with the publication of "Webster's Dictionary," died on May 25 in Pasadena, Cal. Mr. Merriam was born in West Brookfield, Mass., August 27, 1813. His father, Daniel, and his uncle, Ebenezer, under the firm name of E. Merriam & Co. conducted a printing business in West Brookfield. Homer and his brother William, in 1838, established a bookstore and bindery in Greenfield, Mass. In 1845 the firm of W. & H. Merriam removed to Troy, N. Y., and passed through various stages under the firm names of Merriam & Moore and Merriam, Moore & Co., the junior partner of which was the late Henry B. Nims, with Homer Merriam always a partner, until 1856, when he went to Springfield to become a partner in the firm of G. & C. Merriam, established by his brothers, George and Charles, in 1832. The company was incorporated in 1892, when Homer Merriam became its president, a position he held until a few years ago, when he was succeeded by O. M. Baker.

"The history of the G. & C. Merriam Company and Webster's dictionary," according to the Springfield Republican, "has been intimately connected with that of Springfield for over three-quarters of a century. When it was organized in 1832 it occupied quarters on State Street, but in 1835 the building long known as the 'Old Corner Bookstore,' erected by Galen Ames at the corner of State and Main Streets, was occupied by the firm, the book store being on the lower story. Eventually the Merriams withdrew entirely from the book-store department. The origin of the G. & C. Merriam Company can be traced back to a letter from Rev. Dr. Osgood inviting Charles Merriam to come to Springfield and start a new paper, as 'the Springfield newspapers of that day were regarded by the orthodox people of the town as tainted with Unitarianism, and they were desirous of having a soundly orthodox organ.' Charles brought his brother George to Springfield from West Brookfield, and while they decided against the newspaper scheme, they concluded that this was a good town for a book printing office and store, and the firm was then formed, consisting of George and Charles and George's brother-in-law, Mr. Little. Meantime three younger brothers, William, Lewis and Homer, had learned some branch of printing or bookmaking, and William and Homer started their Greenfield enterprise.

"The securing of Webster's dictionary was the great opportunity of the firm of G. & C. Merriam, and their farsightedness as business men was shown by their grasping it. Noah Webster died in 1843. He had published the dictionary in the most expensive manner in two large volumes, not stereotyped, because he was continually editing and revising. The right to publish the unabridged dictionary was put up at auction at Hartford, and J. S. & C. Adams, of Amherst bought it. It was too heavy a load for them to carry and they soon disposed of their rights and remnants of the last edition to G. & C. Merriam for $1000. The work had sold at from $15 to $20. The Merriams at once had it revised by Professor Chauncey Goodrich, stereotyped it, and put it into one compact volume, which they advertised for $6. Mr. Webster's heirs thought that this was too low a price, but the future growth of the company showed that no mistake had been made. The large sales of the unabridged helped the sale of the abridged editions, so the Merriams bought up all editions, under an arrangement with Dr. Webster's heirs that they should be paid a certain sum annually whatever the sales. A large sum was thus paid over to the heirs. The Merriam company did not confine themselves to the publication of the dictionary, but continued to get out law and school books and Bibles."

OBITUARY NOTES.

ADOLF L'ARRONGE, the well-known dramatist, died in Berlin on May 27. He was born in Hamburg March 8, 1838. His plays deal chiefly with the life of the middle classes in Germany. Besides his plays he wrote a work on "Deutsches Theater und Deutsche Schauspielkunst."

DR. JAMES BAIN, for twenty-five years librarian of the Toronto Public Library, died on May 22. Dr. Bain was born in London, Eng., August 2, 1842, and early in life went to Toronto, Canada, with his parents. He obtained his business training in his father's book store and later in that of James Campbell & Son. In 1870 he began to visit England as a buyer for the Campbells, and opened a branch for them in 1874. This was continued until 1878, when he became a partner in the firm of John Nimmo & Co., and the firm became Nimmo & Bain. In 1882, when the firm dissolved, Bain returned to Toronto and was for a short time manager of the Canada Publishing Company. In 1883 he was appointed chief librarian of the Toronto Public Library, which position he held till his death.

PHILIP LORING ALLEN, secretary and treasurer of the Evening Post Company, and for nine years member of the editorial staff of the New York Evening Post, died on May 26 at St. Luke's Hospital. Mr. Allen was born at Madison, Wis., May 25, 1878. He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1899, and in the same year became reporter and exchange editor on the Evening Post. For a year he represented his paper and the Boston Transcript in Washington. In 1904 he became editorial writer for the Evening Post and in 1906 secretary and treasurer of the Evening Post Company. His book, "America's Awakening," published two years ago by the Fleming H. Revell Company, won for him a large number of friends and admirers. Besides his editorial work he wrote a number of short stories for the magazines.

FRANCIS EDOUARD JOACHIM COPPÉE, the French poet and dramatist, died in Paris on May 23. Coppée was born in Paris on January 12, 1842, and in his younger years served as a clerk in the Ministry of War. Later he became librarian of the Senate, and in 1878 he was appointed keeper of the records at the Comédie Française. He first attained distinction by the publication of a number of original poems, and in the later 60's he began the production of his dramatic works. Among his best known plays are "La Guerre de Cent Ans," "La Corrigan," "Le Trésor," "Madame de Maintenon," "Les Jacobites," and "Le Pater." Although both a dramatist and novelist, Coppée was chiefly known as a poet. Among the best known of his poems are "La Bénédiction," "La Maison de Molière" and "La Bataille d'Hernani." In March of last year M. Coppée gave the Académie Française a sum yielding $200 annually for use as a prize for young poets. His letter expressed regret that poets are so little encouraged by prizes in comparison with writers of prose.

DR. LOUIS HONORE FRECHETTE, the French Canadian poet, died June 1 at Montreal. Dr. Fréchette was born on November 16, 1839, at Point Lewis, Quebec. He was called to the bar in 1864, but engaged in newspaper work in Chicago for several years. In 1871 he returned to Canada and practiced his profession in Quebec from 1871 until 1879, when he re-entered the field of newspaper work and became successively editor of French newspapers in Quebec, Montreal and Chicago. In 1889 he became clerk of the Legislative Council of Quebec and held that post until his death. Dr. Fréchette was regarded as the representative poet of French Canada, and his work was honored by the French Academy and the London Imperial Institute. His volumes of poems include "Mes Loisirs," "La voix d'un Exilé," "Pêle-mêle," "Les fleurs boréales," "Les oiseaux de Neige," "La légende d'un Peuple" and "Les Feuilles Volantes." He also wrote a five-act play, "Veronica," some essays in French and an English sketch, "Christmas in French Canada," and translated Howells's "A Chance Acquaintance" and Cable's "Old Creole Days" into French. A sister of William Dean Howells, Mrs. Annie Howells Fréchette, is the wife of Dr. Fréchette's brother, Leonard Achille Fréchette, the chief translator of the Dominion House of Commons.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Bookseller and Stationer and Canadian Newsdealer has not changed hands, as has been mistakenly reported, but is still published by the Maclean Publishing Co., Ltd., at Toronto, who for many years have been making an exceedingly attractive and useful book, and stationery trades paper.

The Broadway Magazine, of which Benjamin B. Hampton is now the principal owner, is settled in its new quarters in the Mar-bridge Building, New York City. William L. Colt, who was for a number of years associated with Mr. Hampton in the advertising agency, is now advertising director and treasurer of the company. Howard P. Ruggles, formerly with Collier's Weekly, is Western advertising manager, with offices in the Heyworth Building, Chicago. J. A. Frazer is the Eastern advertising manager.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MRS. MARY WILKINS FREEMAN has won the victory in the New York Herald prize novel competition, defeating her rival, Max Pemberton, by 14,000 votes. To her, therefore, has been awarded the $5000 prize offered by the New York Herald, in addition to the original sum paid for "The Shoulders of Atlas."

MISS LILIAN WHITING, whose works have given much stimulus to the doctrine of quiet, dignified, unselfish living in this feverish, self-seeking age, has been spending the winter in Rome, whose beauties she has so well presented in her last book, "Italy, the Magic Land." Recently she has gone to Paris to refresh her memory of that city's glories, and to collect the final material for her new book, "Paris the Beautiful," which will be brought out in the fall by Little, Brown & Co.

It has lately been discovered that the novelist, Henry Fielding, once did a piece of work which has not been credited to him. He translated into English the "Military History of Charles XII., King of Sweden, by M. Gustavus Adlerfeld, Chamberlain to the King," a work which appeared in three volumes octavo in 1740. His authorship of the translation is revealed by a receipt recently sold in London and worded thus: "Recd March the 10, 1739, of Mr. John Nourse the sum of forty five pounds in Part Payment for the translation of the History of Charles the twelfth by me Hen. Fielding."

ON the recent occasion of the eighty-ninth birthday celebration of Julia Ward Howe, the only one of her children who was unable to be present was Maud Howe Elliott. After spending two years in Spain with her artist husband, John Elliott, Mrs. Elliott is at present sojourning in Rome, where she is completing the work on her new manuscript on Spain, which Little, Brown & Co. announce for fall publication. During the many months that she was a wanderer in Spain Mrs. Elliott was busy filling her note book with comment and storing up a treasure-house of impressions and memories of things Spanish. With an open mind and a facile pen, she is likely to present the results of her observations in a book which, for charm and value, will take its place beside her two previous volumes on Italy—"Roma Beata" and "Two in Italy."

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—Richard C. Lichtenstein and Henry F. Dodge, of the Burnham Antique Book Store, in the basement of the Old South Meeting House, dissolved partnership on May 27. The business will be continued by Mr. Lichtenstein who, forty years ago, as a boy, entered the employ of the late Mr. Burnham. Mr. Lichtenstein represents a second-hand book business that has continued uninterruptedly since 1825, and though still a young man is one of the oldest in length of service in the old book business in this city.

CINCINNATI, O.—The Book-Shop formerly conducted by A. E. Goetting at 325 West Fourth Street, has combined with Charles Meuth's Book-Shop, and is now doing business at 20 East Seventh Street under the name of The Cut Rate Book Company.

HONOLULU, HAWAII.—E. Herrick Brown, formerly manager of the Pilgrim Press at Chicago and now manager of the Hawaiian Board Book Rooms, has purchased the law, medical and subscription book business from William C. Lyon Company, established here for many years, and will conduct that in addition to his present business.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.—F. F. Hansell & Brother, whose store was burned a short time ago, have leased the five-story brick building at 536-538 Baronne Street, which will afford them ample facilities for their business.

NEW YORK CITY.—Francis & Cole Company, successors to Everitt & Francis Company, have removed from 9 East Twenty-second Street to 18 East Twenty-third Street, (opposite Madison Square,) New York, where they will carry on their business in old, rare and imported books.

SCRANTON, PA.—The incorporation of the International Educational Publishing Company with a capital stock of $20,000,000 brings to the front the International Correspondence Schools, located here. The incorporators are Thomas J. Foster, W. L. Connell, Thomas E. Jones, Jacob K. Griffiths and J. F. Jorline. The purpose of the company, it is said, is to extend the business of the International Textbook Company into English-speaking countries at the present time and later into other countries.

POST CARD NOTES.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have brought out a "Jumbo" series of post-cards, showing Jumbo and Jumbo's friends in a number of amusing activities.

THE COLUMBIA NOVELTY COMPANY, Louisville, Ky., have a line of post-cards with the picture of the "Girl of the State," designed by E. A. Stolzenberger. Every State is represented.

THE AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY is offering a series of Ping-Pong post-cards. These cards have blank spaces in the designs into which may be inserted the ping-pong photograph of the sender.

THE season is approaching during which the dealer in post-cards will reap a harvest if he ever reaps one. Now is the time to begin the campaign and to stock up with the local view cards that appeal to vacationists and tourists in general. Summer is pre-eminently the time for the liberal sale of this variety of cards, and this summer the popularity of the view card should be more pronounced than ever before.

THE GERMAN-AMERICAN POST-CARD MANUFACTURING CO., New York City, is showing a so-called "utility" card, made of delicate buff or rose-colored plush, with plain or embossed hand colored floral designs. The body of the card is mounted on cardboard stock. Around the edge of each card are small holes about one-half inch apart, through which a ribbon can be drawn for the purpose of binding the cards together so as to make a handsome pillow top. A good size pillow can be made with twelve cards.

PERSONAL NOTES.

CHARLES L. BOWMAN, of the Union Library Association, sails on June 6, by the Minneapolis, of the Atlantic Transport Line, for England. He will this year extend his trip to Germany and will not return until the end of July. We wish him a pleasant voyage and luck in buying.

GEORGE ROBERTS, the representative of the new publishing firm of Maunsell & Co., of Dublin, is at present visiting this country. Mr. Roberts's firm publish the works of W. B. Yeats, Lady Gregory, J. M. Synge, Stephen Gwynne, M.P., and generally represents the new idea in things Irish. Mr. Roberts will call on the leading publishers to develop connections for his firm and to find a market for its full product.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

KARSLAKE & Co., 35 Bond Street, Hampstead, London, have just published the second part of the fifth volume of "Book Auction Records," edited by Frank Karslake, covering the book auction sales from January 1 to March 31, 1908, and recording 4112 records. (314 p. 16°.)

The Bulletin of Bibliography for April contains a list of the American journals omitted from Bolton's "Catalogue of Scientific and Technical Periodicals, 1665-1895," by William J. Fox, assistant librarian of the Academy of Natural Sciences, Philadelphia; Pt. 5 of the "Bibliography of Articles Relating to Holidays," by Robert M. McCurdy, revised and brought down to date by Edith M. Coulter; the regular department of "Births and Deaths," that is a list of new periodicals and those that have been changed or discontinued; Pt. 2 of F. W. Faxon's bibliography of "Literary Annuals and Gift Books;" the January to March continuation of the "Magazine Subject-Index." (v. 5, No. 5.)

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS has opened a branch showroom at Cathedral Buildings, 203 Flinders Lane, Melbourne, Victoria, where all the more important publications of the Press will be on view, and orders will be taken.

THE JOHN LANE COMPANY have just published "A Man of Genius," a new novel by Miss Willcocks, the author of "The Wingless Victory," who is winning recognition for her description of Devonshire life and scenery.

DODD, MEAD & Co. announce "The New International Year Book for 1907," which will record the progress of the year in the various departments of science, art, literature, finance, industry, etc., and will serve a purpose as an independent volume or as an effective supplement to any encyclopedia.

"SOMETIMES London has a good summer publishing season, but this year," according to the London correspondent of the New York Herald, "doesn't seem to hold out much promise. Nobody appears to want books, say the publishers, who, therefore, are inclined to hold the best literary wares until early autumn."

At the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held at Baltimore, Md., from May 6 to June 2, action was taken to combine under one charter the eastern and western branches of the Methodist Book Concern. No other changes were made, the agents in both Cincinnati and New York having been re-elected.

WILLIAM J. CAMPBELL, Philadelphia, has brought out an interesting work entitled "Legal Philadelphia—Comments and Memories," by Robert Davison Cox, of the Philadelphia Bar. The book treats of the social side of the profession, official robes, forensic oratory, the old conveyancers, court clerk, the judges, and gives many personal sketches of individual lawyers and judges.

L. C. PAGE & Co. have just brought out Professor Charles G. D. Robert's new book of animal and nature stories entitled "The House in the Water, a Book of Wild Life," the publication of which was delayed almost two months owing to the author's absence abroad. The book contains a number of characteristic illustrations by Charles Livingston Bull and Frank Vining Smith.

DANA ESTES & Co. have just ready "The Wooing of Calvin Parks," a delightful work of humor, by Laura E. Richards, the author of "Captain January," etc. In this story, the creator of "Geoffrey Strong" and "Mrs. Tree" reverts to one of the happiest of her many phases of activity and portrays with delightful reality the queer, quaint, odd and lovable characters of her own "Down East" neighborhood.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just brought out "The Government of England," a work in two volumes, written on somewhat similar lines to Mr. Bryce's "The American Commonwealth," "The Case Against Socialism," a handbook for speakers and candidates, prepared by the London Municipal Society; "Home Life in Germany," by Mrs. Alfred Sidgwick; Thibaudeau's "Bonaparte and the Consulate," translated and edited by Dr. G. K. Fortescue; also, "Faith in Man," by Gustave Spiller.

W. J. DOXEY, the buyer of books for Siegel, Cooper & Co., at Chicago, recently featured "The Last Egyptian" in a special display in their store. The show was 9½ feet square and 22 feet high, the base, finished to look like solid stone, being surmounted by an obelisk covered with inscriptions. The table on which the base of the obelisk rested was covered with sand, real grass and a handsome papier maché camel. Copies of the books were stacked close to the exhibit, which attracted considerable attention.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have just brought out a new edition, entirely rewritten, of John Galsworthy's "The Island Pharisees," a masterly work, strong, vivid and stimulating. They will publish on the 12th inst. Garrett C. Pier's work on the "Inscriptions of the Nile Monuments," a book of reference for tourists, with upwards of 100 illustrations; and "Motor Days in England," by John M. Dillon, an account of impressions and experiences of a party of Americans during an extended motor trip through England.

THE RIVERSIDE PRESS, the printing plant of Houghton-Mifflin Company, is noted for the loyalty of its employees. One family has an extraordinary record for long service. The father was in the employ of the press for forty-seven years, his brother for thirty-seven years, his two sons for thirty-three and thirty years respectively, and his five daughters an average of ten years apiece, making a total of over 197 years. It is very rare indeed that any one at the press voluntarily gives up his position, except for reasons that make such a step unavoidable.

WILLIAM HENRY BAKER, P. O. Box 160, Cleveland, O., has in preparation "A Dictionary of Men's Wear," a semi-encyclopedic reference book of general interest to merchants and manufacturers, advertisement writers, students of costume and others. The work has been prepared by Mr. Baker, who, about seven years ago, while connected with a clothing manufacturing concern as advertising manager, wrote a little "Clothes Dictionary" that was so successful that its author determined to compile the comprehensive work now nearly ready for publication.

No book of recent publication has aroused so much discussion in literary and other circles as has Dr. George M. Gould's book on Lafcadio Hearn. It has been the subject of bitter letters from those representing the Hearn cult in New York, several of which letters have appeared in various daily papers. To some of these Dr. Gould has replied, stating his position and his point of view, yet newspaper articles denouncing the book and the author continue to appear. A threat has even been made to bring suit for libel in the name of Hearn's widow, and final developments are awaited with interest.

H. M. CALDWELL COMPANY will publish shortly a little book of slang verse, by James P. Haverson, a Toronto newspaperman. The title of the volume is "Sour Sonnets of a Sorehead, and Other Songs of the Street." It is printed in two colors, with appropriate page decoration, and is profusely illustrated by Fergus Kyle. The book is an amplification of a series of sonnets which ran in the Toronto Saturday Night some months ago. To this series, which has been extended, are added many other verses dealing with the everyday life of the streets. Simultaneously with the American edition an edition will be published in Canada by the Hunter, Rose Company, of Toronto.

THE MCCLURE COMPANY have just ready "The Voice of the City," by O. Henry, the third of the Four Million stories, of which "The Four Million" and "The Trimmed Lamp" were the first two. While these books have never figured among the best sellers, they have achieved a permanent place among those books which enjoy popularity not for one season but for many seasons, and pass into the literature of an epoch. They will publish on the 20th inst. a new book by Mrs. Mary Stewart Cutting, entitled "The Wayfarers," which deals on a large scale with the typical American folk with whom we are all acquainted—the middle-aged married people and the younger element that make up our representative American society.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. have just ready a popular edition of a favorite American romance, "Truth Dexter." It will be recalled that this story, with "the most lovable heroine in modern fiction," to quote the reviewers, was published with the name of Sidney McCall as the author on the title page. For several years, great curiosity was manifested as to the identity of Sidney McCall, who proved to be Mary McNeil Fenollosa, the wife of Professor Ernest F. Fenollosa. "Truth Dexter" has continued as one of the favorite American novels, nearly 100,000 copies having already been sold. This new popular edition is printed from new plates, with a new cover design, and a characteristic frontispiece by Alice Barber Stephens.

THE CENTURY COMPANY will publish shortly "Diana of Dobson's," a tale of England by an English author, Cicely Hamilton, giving glimpses of life among the girls in a London shop, and dealing cleverly with what life meant to Diana when a small fortune came to her; also, "The Post-Girl," by Edward C. Booth, a story of English life by a native of Yorkshire. Next month they will publish "The Well in the Desert," by Adeline Knapp, the scenes of which are laid in Arizona, principally in the desert, where the writer lived a hermit's life for many months. Later they will bring out, in the form of a novel, David Belasco's and David Warfield's latest dramatic success, "The Grand Army Man," by Harvey J. O'Higgins.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY have just ready "The Blue Lagoon," the new story by H. De Vere, which, in England, has already exhausted four editions. Among the books published last week by the Lippincotts are several in the scientific and technological class. One is the second series of the Harvey lectures, delivered during the winter of 1906-1907, and another is "A Dictionary of Spanish and Spanish-American Mining, Metallurgical and Allied Terms," to which some Portuguese and Portuguese-American terms are added, by Edward Halse. The Harvey lectures, delivered before that well-known New York Medical Society, deal with the experimental side of medicine and allied subjects, and the authors include well-known specialists, foreign and American.

HENRY HOLT & Co. have completed arrangements with Mrs. Carroll Watson Rankin for the publication of a sequel to her "Dandelion Cottage." Mrs. Rankin declares that "there really is a Dandelion Cottage! It belonged to the church simply because it happened to stand on land that the church acquired. Some children, now grown up, really played in it one summer. Some years ago, the house then called 'The Annex'—was put in repair, and it goes now, solely because of the book, by the name 'Dandelion Cottage.' The people living in it tell me that every now and then children come to the door to ask to be permitted to look inside to see if there really are dandelions on the dining room wall! One infant actually upbraided the tenant for having the dandelions covered by new paper! The corner cupboard is still there and the ground plan is still unchanged."

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY publish this week "Social Psychology," by Professor Edward A. Ross, the pioneer treatise, in any language, professing to deal systematically with the subject; "The Art of Singing and Vocal Declamation," by Sir Charles Saintley, who deals with such subjects as the qualifications for a singer, the choice of a master, habits of life, etc.; volume iv. of "Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians," covering the letters Q to S; "The Statesman's Year-Book for 1908;" "Agriculture for Southern Schools," by Professor J. F. Duggar, of the Alabama Experiment Station; also, "German-English and English-German Dictionary," by W. James. The new book by "Barbara," (Mabel Osgood Wright,) which has been announced under the title "The Markis and the Major," is to be called instead "The Open Window." It is to be published about the middle of the month.

THE very general and keen interest in the revival of arts and crafts in America is a sign full of promise and pleasure to those who are working among the so-called minor arts. In this connection it is interesting to look into the past, particularly to those centuries known as the Middle Ages, in which the handicrafts flourished in special perfection, and to see for ourselves how these crafts were pursued, and exactly what these arts really were. An interesting work on this subject by Julia de W. Addison will be published early in June by L. C. Page & Company under the title "The Arts and Crafts of the Middle Ages." Mrs. Addison was one of the sixteen charter members of the Arts and Crafts Society of Boston, and is herself a craftswoman of no mean ability. One of her designs was that of a pattern for a chalice for Bishop Roots, of Hankow, China, another being a pattern for a chalice for the Church of the Epiphany, Winchester, Mass. Mrs. Addison's specialty, however, is that of embroidery in blue and green on linen, her most noted designs being silhouettes of animals. She is also an expert at illuminating on vellum.

THE growth of the "New Thought" movement during the past ten years has been astonishing, to say the least, and the multiplication of literature upon the subject and the rise of new religious cults and increased interest in psychical research has been as remarkable. It is interesting to note that among the forerunners of the recent phenomenal development in the literature of these movements, has been Dr. Thomson Jay Hudson's "The Law of Psychic Phenomena," the first edition of which was published in 1893. The publishers, A. C. McClurg & Co., report that thirty editions of this book have been sold, and such has been the interest stimulated by it from the beginning that now, fifteen years since its first issue, the demand is larger than ever, and the sales will soon round out a hundred thousand copies. Since the publication of "The Law of Psychic Phenomena" four other books by Dr. Hudson—"A Scientific Demonstration of the Future Life," "The Divine Pedigree of Man," "The Law of Mental Medicine," and "The Evolution of the Soul," respectively—have been published by A. C. McClurg & Co. These volumes, too, are having a remarkably wide sale.

AN international sextette of novels—English, German, French, American, Indian and Australian—is being issued by John Lane Company, New York. The English story is Miss Willcock's new book entitled "A Man of Genius" (ready on June 5). Her previous novel, "The Wingless Victory," was received with acclamation in this country and England and is now being read in translation in Germany and Scandinavia. Clara Viebig's "Absolution," (issued May 29,) has been the literary sensation of Germany. The face of a woman, young and proud and very beautiful haunts the pages of this new novel by the most powerful of German woman writers. "The Child of Chance" is the title of Maxime Formont's novel, which has created a sensation in Paris. To the heroine of "Absolution" man is the lover. To Marie Cecile in Formont's novel, man is essentially the father. The author deals with this delicate subject with skill and tact. Emery Pottle's story of American life, "Handicapped," (issued May 29,) comes to an exciting focus in a Madison Square Garden horse show. In "The Great Amulet," (issued May 29,) Maud Diver returns to the scenes of the Indian frontier, which she handled with such distinction in her former book, "Captain Desmond." In the "Bishop's Scapegoat" T. B. Clegg turns to a large diocese in Australia and the French penal colony in New Caledonia for a remarkable study of the conflict of conscience and primary human duties.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY have just ready a "life" of Sheldon Jackson, by Professor Robert L. Stewart. It is the story of a busy, adventurous and singularly romantic life, more wonderful in its detail and actual experiences than many of the fancies that give life and color to the works of fiction. Sheldon Jackson, who is just celebrating his golden wedding in Washington, D. C., was a shrewd, far-seeing pioneer of the cross, and entering into the new mining towns of the West, laid the foundations of moral life and Christian institutions and all that is highest in American civilization. To him was due the introduction of the domesticated reindeer into Alaska with its consequent economic blessing to that northernmost region of our country. He was a religious adventurer equipped with a great faith, a shrewd mind and a tireless body. The work on his life has been carefully and accurately done with a view to the reading of the future historians of the great West to whom it will be a mine of information. They have also just ready a work on "The Kingdom in India," by Jacob Chamberlain, who died just as his book was ready for publication, and which is now offered as a memorial of the grand old missionary, with a biography written by his friend, Henry N. Cobb. Another book just ready is "The Valley of the Nile," by Charles R. Watson, who has made a thorough examination of the conditions on the ground and a study of the religious conditions in Egypt from the earliest days of Christian history until now.

THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY has just ready "The Lure of the Mask," by Harold MacGrath. This is the author's sixth novel. In addition he has written two novelettes, an operetta and two books of short stories. "The Lure of the Mask" was first planned four years ago when the author used to refer to the story as "The Masquerading Lady." According to his original idea, the scene was to be laid in France; but a visit to Italy in 1906 convinced Mr. MacGrath that the siren cities of Italy were the one right setting for his romance. He revisited Italy in 1907, to confirm his impressions of local color, and finished the book in America last winter. While much of the action occurs abroad, almost all the characters are Americans—members of an American comic opera company. They have also just brought out volumes XXIII. and XXIV. of the "Dowden Shakespeare," namely "The Comedy of Errors," edited by Henry Cuninghame, and "King Richard the Third," edited by A. Hamilton Thompson. The introductory essays are scholarly pieces of work, dealing largely with general questions of text, date and sources. The notes are printed at the bottom of the page, and not only give all the variorum readings but are rich in illuminating quotations from the whole range of Elizabethan literature. "W. W.'s" translations of Plautus's Menaechmi (1595) is printed as an appendix to "The Comedy of Errors." Mr. Cunningham, in opposition to Mr. Sidney Lee, advocates the theory, originally put forth by Malone, that part of Shakespeare's youth was spent in an attorney's office, and cites many passages in proof of his contention.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

In 1875 David Parsons Holton, M.D., 19 Great Jones Street, New York City, announced the intended publication of Winslow's Memorial. Can any one afford us any information as to whether this book was ever issued or suggest how we could secure information respecting the whereabouts of the manuscript if unpublished? C.-P.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print of five nonpareil lines, exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 7 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small undisplayed advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no account must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their Communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash.]

Write your wants plainly, and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," book-sellers should take the usual precautions, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

American Catalog, 1905-07

IN view of the fact that the cumulative catalog for the three years 1905-1906-1907 is practically of the same bulk as that for the five years preceding, it has been decided to make this three-year volume the permanent American Catalog, instead of waiting for the period ending with 1910. This will offer a volume of more convenient size, and the plan has other advantages. The volume contains 1233 pages, including a sixty-page Directory of Publishers, the main list covering 1164 pages, as against 1212 pages for the preceding five-year list.

The volume will be bound, therefore, in half morocco, uniform with the preceding volume, and the price will be $7.50, which may later be raised to $10.00.

The full-title record, with descriptive notes, for 1905-1906-1907 will be made up into a supplementary volume, as in the previous period, one alphabet for each year, and furnished in uniform half morocco at the additional price of $6.00 per copy. To those who have the full-title records for 1905 and 1906, forming part of the Annual Catalog publications for those years, the full-title record will be supplied for 1907 in sheets for $2.00. If they will return their own sheets for 1905 and 1906, the volume complete for the three years will be furnished in the uniform half morocco binding for $3.00. The cumulative portion of the Annual Catalogs 1905 and 1906 are superseded by the bound cumulations 1905-1907.

The Reference List for 1905-07 in one alphabet.
8vo, half morocco, - - $7.50

Supplementary volume containing the full-title record in a separate alphabet for each year, 1905, 1906, 1907. 8vo, uniform binding, - - $6.00

THE CLIQUE

(ESTABLISHED 1890)

The Recognized Organ of the Second-Hand Book Trade

THE CLIQUE is read by every bookseller who deals in old books in Great Britain, and by many in the United States and on the Continent.

THE CLIQUE advertises for about 4000 books every week; books which are wanted by its Members, and for which they are willing to pay a fair price.

THE CLIQUE is issued to booksellers only, its motto being "The Trade for THE TRADE." Booksellers can therefore report to our advertisers in confidence that they will not be "cut" by amateur dealers, who are not obliged to make their living by selling books.

THE CLIQUE is the best medium for all advertisements which appeal to booksellers, and its rates are lower than those of any trade paper in the world.

SUBSCRIPTION 6s 6d ($1 50) per annum, post free; but as all subscriptions terminate in December subscribers may deduct 1½d (three half-pence) for each week of the year that has passed.

Bibliographical Helps

ISSUED FROM

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY OFFICE

The Publishers' Weekly

Recognized as the representative of the publishing and bookselling interests in the United States. Contains full weekly record of American publications, with monthly indexes, cumulated quarterly, news of interest concerning the book trade, lists of "Book Wanted," (an advertising feature which each subscriber can use without charge to the extent of 100 lines per year,) etc., etc. Subscription, $4.00 a year; to foreign countries, $5.00 a year.

The American Catalog, 1905-1907

Vol. I contains the Three-year Reference list in one alphabet. 8vo, half morocco, $7.50.
Vol. II, Supplementary volume, containing the full record material in a separate alphabet for each year, 8vo, half morocco, $6.00.

The American Catalog, 1900-1905

Vol. I contains a five-year cumulation, Jan. 1, 1900-Jan. 1, 1905, giving in one alphabet, by author, title and subject, information of the books issued during the years covered by this period. It also contains a directory of over 3800 publishers, with street addresses. 8vo, half morocco, $7.50.

Vol. II or Supplementary volume gives the full-title entries with annotations printed in the Weekly Record of The Publishers' Weekly, cumulated into an alphabet for each year, i.e., into five alphabets 1900, 01, 02, 03, 04. This is planned to answer the demand of such libraries, bookdealers, and others as want the full material of The Publishers' Weekly bibliographical system in available shape. 8vo, half morocco, $7.50. The set of two, $15.

Of the previous series of THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE, quarto size, the earlier volumes are out of print. We have remaining a few copies of the volumes 1890-95 and 1895-1900, bound in half morocco, $15.00 each.

The Publishers' Trade List Annual

Contains the latest catalogues of upward of 200 American publishers, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm-names, with smaller lists, fully indexed, at the end of the volume, indispensable to every one who has any interest in the sale or purchase of books. Large 8vo, cloth, $2.00.

Index to the Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1902, out of print.

The Supplementary Index, 1903-1904, 500 pages, 8vo, cloth, with thumb index, $3.00. The alphabet in this volume is supplementary to the original Index of 1902.

The American Educational List

Contains a price-list of the text-books in use in the United States, arranged alphabetically by author's or editor's name, and a detailed subject-index, referring from each specific subject to authors of books on that subject. (Published annually.) 8vo, leatherette, 50 cents.

The Library Journal

Chiefly devoted to library economy and bibliography. Established in 1876. Published monthly. Subscription $4.00 a year, postpaid; single numbers, 35 cents. Price to Europe or other countries in the Union, 16s. a year; single numbers, 1s. 6d.

The Annual Library Index

Including Periodicals, American and English; Essays, Book-Chapters, etc., Bibliographies, Necrology and Index to Dates of Principal Events. Edited, with the co-operation of members of the American Library Association and of The Library Journal staff, by W. I. FLETCHER and H. E. HAINES. (Published annually.) 8vo, cloth, $3.50.

English Catalogue of Books (Annual)

Containing a complete list of all the books published in Great Britain and Ireland in the calendar year, with index to subjects. 8vo, cloth, $1.50.

English Catalogue of Books, 1901-1905

The record of these five years in one continuous alphabet. (Seventh volume of series.) 8vo, half morocco, $20.00.

Directory of Publishers

THE MOST UNUSUAL ROMANCE OF THE YEAR

"A story which is unlike any other story that ever was written."

—Review of Reviews, London.

"A very lovely and fascinating tale, by the side of which 'Paul and Virginia' seems tame indeed."

—Sunday Times, London.

The Blue Lagoon

AN enchanting romance, concerned with two Boston children, a boy and a girl, cast away upon a desert island in mid-ocean, with only an old Irish sailor, Paddy Button, as companion. Paddy soon dies and leaves them to grow to manhood and womanhood alone, and learn for themselves the meaning of love and the great truths of life.
